Call for applications: Tenure Track Faculty Position in Human Biology and Biomedical Sciences

The Department of Human Biology and the Herta and Paul Amir School of Medicine at the University of Haifa, Israel, invite candidates to apply for a full-time tenure-track faculty position. We are seeking candidates in the broad fields of Human Biology and Biomedical Sciences, including experimental and computational biology. Individuals with two or more years of postdoctoral experience and a strong publication record are encouraged to apply.

Successful candidates are expected to engage in independent research funded by external competitive funding, in graduate students' instruction, and in academic teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels in both biology and medicine. The position start date is October 1, 2026 or later.

The application package should be sent to Prof. Sarit Larisch, head of the search committee, by email (slarisch@univ.haifa.ac.il) and must include the following items:

- A cover letter (1 page)
- A complete resume including a list of publications
- A research statement summarizing previous achievements and detailing future research plans (up to 3 pages)
- A teaching statement describing previous teaching experience and detailing teaching interests (1 page)
- Please send all the above documents as one PDF file.

Three letters of recommendation, including one from the Ph.D. supervisor and one from the post-doctoral supervisor, should be addressed and sent directly to Prof. Larisch.

Applications will be accepted until end of December, 2025.
